Your FD maturity and pension aren't

The Trigger:

Rs 65.27

Lakh

stat_data The Income Tax Department flagged a cash deposit of Rs 65.27 lakh in a senior citizen's account as 'unexplained income'. Large cash movements are automatically tracked by banking systems.

The Misunderstanding

comparison_data The tax department viewed the deposit as potential hidden earnings. In reality, the money came from legitimate sources: pension payments and matured Fixed Deposits (FDs).

The Legal Battle

card_text The case reached the ITAT (Income Tax Appellate Tribunal) in Jaipur. The taxpayer's son stepped in to provide the necessary bank statements and maturity certificates to prove the funds were already taxed or exempt.

How the Case Was Won

flowchart_data 1. Notice received for unexplained cash. 2. Son gathered pension slips and FD maturity proofs. 3. Evidence presented to ITAT Jaipur. 4. Tribunal ruled in favor of the taxpayer.

What You Must Keep

checklist_data Keep these to avoid trouble: Pension statements (Pass), FD maturity receipts (Pass), Bank account statements showing the trail (Pass), Income Tax Returns filed in previous years (Pass).

Why Documentation Matters

card_text The law allows you to explain the source of your funds. Without clear, dated records, the burden of proof becomes much harder to satisfy during an audit.

Takeaway: Keep a 'Money Trail

📌 Save for Reference

Bookmark this framework when making this money decision.

✈️ Share with a Peer

Send this to a fellow investor when they face this decision.

💬 COMMUNITY DEBATE

Always store your pension and FD maturity documents in a dedicated folder. Save this post to remember why your paperwork is your strongest shield. Share this with a senior citizen in your family.