

How ₹14.94
Lakh

vanishes instantly

The Illusion of High Returns.

Retail investors often mistake fraudulent dashboards for fintech innovation. The reality is a closed-loop ledger fraud. No market execution occurs; the ₹14.94 Lakh lost by Panipat residents never entered the exchange. You are trading against a ghost, not the market.

The Mechanism of Capital Extraction.

Scammers use psychological anchoring to keep victims engaged. By showing artificial 'profit' growth on a proprietary app, they trigger the greed response. Once the victim attempts a withdrawal, the platform demands 'taxes' or 'fees,' extracting further capital before the inevitable total blackout.

The Fatal Liquidity Trap.

Institutional markets rely on transparent order books and clearing houses. These scams operate in a vacuum where liquidity is simulated. Because no actual trades are routed to the exchange, the platform holds 100% of the risk, ensuring your capital is trapped from the first deposit.

Mathematical Principal Erosion.

The math is binary: 100% loss. Unlike legitimate market volatility, these scams offer zero recovery potential. The ₹14.94 Lakh loss represents a total wipeout of principal. There is no compounding, no fee structure, and no market participation—only the systematic theft of retail savings.

The Non-Negotiable Institutional Rule.

Never trade on any platform not registered with SEBI. If the broker is not on the official SEBI database, they are not a broker; they are a counterparty to your loss. Verify the registration number on the official SEBI website before transferring a single rupee.

The Pre-Trade Audit Checklist.

Before allocating capital, perform these three steps:

1. Search the entity name on the SEBI portal. 2. Verify the registration number against the master list. 3.

Confirm the broker is a member of a recognized stock exchange. If you cannot find them, do not deposit.
