Transferring ₹7.5 Lakh to 'verify' your

The 'Digital Arrest' Trap

card_text Scammers call claiming you are involved in a criminal case. They use fear to keep you on the phone, demanding you stay connected until a 'verification' process is complete. This is a common tactic to isolate victims.

The Reality of Law Enforcement comparison_data Police demand immediate digital payments to clear your name. Official agencies never demand money over the phone or via digital transfers to resolve investigations.

How Investigations Actually Work

flowchart_data Step 1: Formal notice issued in writing. Step 2: Official summons delivered to your residence. Step 3: In-person appearance at a police station or court. Step 4: Legal documentation provided for every step.

Why the ₹7.5 Lakh Loss Happened

stat_data ₹7.5 Lakh Total amount lost The victim was pressured into transferring funds under the guise of an 'ATS case' verification.

Red Flags to Watch For checklist_data Caller demands immediate money transfer Threats of 'Digital Arrest' or jail Request to keep the call private/secret Verification via official in-person visit card_text If you receive a suspicious call: 1. Hang up immediately. 2. Do not transfer any money. 3. Visit your local police station in person to verify if any case exists against you. Official business is never conducted through phone-based financial transactions.

Your Safety Protocol

Don't Let Fear Cost You

📌 Save for Reference

Bookmark this framework when making this money decision.

✈️ Share with a Peer

Send this to a fellow investor when they face this decision.

💬 COMMUNITY DEBATE

Save this post to remind yourself that no government agency will ever ask for money over the phone. Share this with your family to keep their hard-earned savings safe.